GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHED BY REBELS

REVOLUTIONISTS IN MEXICO MAKE FORMAL PROCLAMATION

NAME EMILIO GOMEZ PRESIDENT OF JALISCO AND WILL SEND A SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE TO WASHINGTON.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 3.—The revolutionary junta has issued a formal proclamation of the establishment of a provisional government at Jalisco with Emilio Gomez as president.

A representative of the new government will be sent to Washington to ask recognition by the United States on the ground that the revolutionists now hold a port of entry and should be treated as belligerents. The rebel leaders have given assurances that all Americans will be fully protected and will be subjected to no further insults.

Americans Are Captured—

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3.—The revolution against President Madero is spreading rapidly, accompanied by a bitter anti-American demonstration. The result has reached Toluca, where there are large American mining interests.

It is reported that 50 American passengers on a Mexican Central train, which was held up by 4000 men 80 miles south of Jalisco, are now in the hands of the rebels. An appeal has been sent to Ambassador Wilson.

United States Prepares—

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Brigadier General Luncie, commanding the department of Texas, was today ordered to move troops to any point along the Mexican border needing protection. Reports received here today are that the situation is decidedly grave all along the Mexican border. Many Americans are said to be in danger.

Another Town Besieged—

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3.—A band of 1,500 Federal soldiers are today besieging at Cuernavaca Morelos by 2,000 insurgents. It is reported that the Federal condition is desperate.

INVITATION TO ALL NATIONS TO ATTEND BIG EXPOSITION

PRESIDENT ISSUES A PROCLAMATION FOR CELEBRATION TO BE HELD AT SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Taft today issued a proclamation in which all nations of the world to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition to be held at San Francisco in 1915 to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal.

GLIDDEN TOUR ABOLISHED

CUP TO BE SUBSTITUTED.
CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—The Glidden automobile tour has been abolished, so far as the American Automobile Association is concerned. The tour will be replaced by an A. A. A. cup valued at $5,000, and the trip for 1912 will go to New Orleans. The starting point has not been decided upon.

LAFOLLETTE TO LOSE OUT WITH OHIOANS

ROOSEVELT WILL BE CHOICE IS THE GENERAL BELIEF NOW

TO SETTLE THE MATTER DEFINITELY, LETTERS ASKING PREFERENCE HAVE BEEN SENT TO PROGRESSIVES.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 3.—The general belief today is that Col. Roosevelt has displaced Senator Robert M. LaFollette as the choice of the Ohio progressives for the republican nomination for president. The LaFollette following has offered to submit the matter to a referendum vote of the rank and file of the progressive league in the state, and letters have been mailed to all members asking their preference. The replies to these letters will probably determine who will be supported by the progressives.

LaFollette Is Hissed—

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—Senator LaFollette, speaking from 11 o'clock last night to 1:30 o'clock this morning at the banquet of the Periodical Publishers' association, caustically criticised American newspapers, calling them subsidized servants of the interests. At the conclusion of the senator's speech nearly all present hissed loudly. The toastmaster administered a stinging rebuke.

KING AND QUEEN WILL VISIT IRELAND DURING THE SUMMER

PLAN WILL BE CARRIED OUT IF IRISH SUBJECTS CAN BE PREVAILED UPON TO ASSIST IN WELCOME.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Unless the plans of Sir Edward Carson and his confederate loyal British fellow subjects are too successful with the result that the Orangemen will be too busy clubbing and shooting fellow Irishmen who are suffering from the delusion that they are fit to govern their own local affairs, it is the intention of King George and Queen Mary to pay a visit to the Emerald Isle in the middle of June. The royal couple will visit Belfast and Londonderry and, while in the latter town, they will formally open the new Guild hall which was erected to take the place of the old building which was destroyed by fire three years ago. From Londonderry, the king and queen will go for a cruise in the royal yacht round the western and southern coast, landing for visits to Galway, Cork, Queenstown and an extended visit to the beautiful lake district of Killarney. This is as much as is known of the royal itinerary at present, but immediately after his return from India, King George will go over the details of the trip and probably fix a date for a visit to Dublin.

BIG SOCIAL SESSION OF ELKS PROVES INTERESTING TO ALL

FESTIVITIES ENJOYED BY LARGE NUMBER OF VISITING MEMBERS AND FRIENDS OF THE LOCAL MEMBERS.

Offering a splendid opportunity for visiting members of the order and a number of invited friends of the members of the Daytona lodge to inspect the beautiful new home of the Elks on Volusia avenue, and giving a good opportunity for visitors and local residents to get acquainted, the social session of the local lodge of Elks, held last evening was a big success.

The session was attended by about 150, those not members of the Daytona lodge representing nearly every state in the union. The evening's festivities began with a substantial lunch served in the big banquet room of the home, and the lunch was followed by short talks by a number of members of the Daytona lodge and members of the order from all sections of the United States. The talks were followed by an impromptu program of music, the principal feature of which were furnished by the Tucker orchestra and members of the Coburn minstrel troupe.

The universal sentiment expressed by the visiting members of the order was that the city of Daytona should feel proud of the beautiful new Elks home here, and that the building and its furnishings compare favorably with the homes in many cities much larger than Daytona.

NEW MEDICAL SCIENCE RESTORES SIGHT TO BLIND.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Medical science has achieved a striking triumph in the success of Dr. Magitot's effort to restore sight to a blind person. Attempts to graft a portion of the cornea of an animal on to the human eye have proved futile. Dr. Magitot about ten months ago secured a human cornea and grafted a portion of it on to a patient, whose eye had been scorched by quicklime. The operation has proved completely successful, the patient, who was practically blind, having his sight so far restored that he is able to find his way about.

MAN THRIVES ON DIET OF POTATOES AND MARGARINE

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 3.—Dr. Fletcher, a well known American dietetic expert, who has been staying here for a long time, has just completed a two months diet of potatoes and margarine, proving that a man can live and work reasonably well on a potato diet, plus a small amount of nitrogen or protein. For two months, Dr. Fletcher, who lived in the most fashionable hotel in Copenhagen, limited his daily food to from two to four pounds of potatoes and 1½ ounces to four ounces of margarine, and his only drink was water. He says that he never felt so well, and he will now continue the same diet.

When other tests indicated, in some instances, a low level of risk, the results of the study could be used to support a decision to allow the use of a chemical. But, the researchers noted, the evidence was not strong enough for the agencies to conclude that the chemical could cause any adverse health effects in humans. The researchers said that the results of the study are consistent with the results of other studies.

OLD NEWSPAPERS.
Their Usefulness is Not Gone Just Because You Have Read Them.
The mere fact that moths cannot read is no reason why they should destroy newspapers, but they do nevertheless. It isn't exactly the newspaper or its editorial policy that moths dislike. It's the ink used in printing the type that makes the moths stay away. That is why, in the absence of mothproof bags and cedar chests, some housewives pack their furs and woollens away wrapped in newspapers at the end of the winter season and find that is a satisfactory way of preserving them against the ravages of moths. There is nothing better than old newspapers for use under the carpets for the same reason.
Old newspapers have many other uses as well. Wet in water they serve to clean out the stove splendidly. Crushed newspapers are excellent to clean lamp chimneys. They can even be used for an iron holder for an emergency.
Newspapers dipped in lamp oil are useful for cleaning windows. Irons not much soiled can be rubbed on old newspapers and thus made fit for use. Dipped in lamp oil they are splendid to rub the outside of the dishpan. They keep it bright and shining. Torn in shreds, slightly dampened and scattered over the carpet, they keep down dust when sweeping. They clean the sink of its grease and sediment. Nothing is better, for the greasy paper can be at once burned after use.
Many times folded newspapers will serve as a mat to stand hot and blackened pots or kettles on and save soiling the kitchen table. The kitchen stove is kept bright after the cooking of each meal with old papers, and this saves many polishings.

LIFE BUOY AND OAR.
Putting on the One and Supporting Yourself With the Other.
Very few persons know how to get into a life buoy, and, as in this uncertain world one never knows when one may need to make use of a buoy in real earnest, a little practice might prove of great value in an emergency.
Now, when the buoy is thrown into the water the temptation is to try to lift it over one's head and shoulders or to dive through it. This, however, is impossible. The correct thing is to grasp the two sides of the buoy with fingers of the hands uppermost, lower yourself under the buoy and come up through the center, then rest your arms upon the sides, and you will be comfortably supported as long as it is necessary.

More often than otherwise, in case of accident, a life buoy is not at hand. In such an event an ear may be used as a substitute. Now, there is some little art in saving oneself by this means, for an average sized scull is not buoyant enough to support a person if grasped as the first impulse would direct.
There is only one way in which the ear will support a human being. It must be ridden like a hobbyhorse. The haft is put between the legs and the blade allowed to project above the surface of the water in front of one. By this means the head is kept well above the water—L'Espresso's Magazine.

Feeling For Death.
For a week the self appointed guide to the blind on their daily walks had noticed that the two men who were her special charges felt carefully of the wall on either side of the door of the asylum when passing in and out. Since she was there to tend them, that precaution seemed not at all necessary, and she finally asked their reason for it.
"I am looking for escape on the door," one old man told her. "They don't like to let us know here in the asylum when any one dies for fear of making us feel bad, but they put escape on the door, and by feeling for it when we pass in and out we can find out for ourselves when one of us has gone."—New York Press.

How Fielding Spelled His Name.
The Fieldings are an ancient race, and the Denbigh earldom dates from 1622. By the way, there is a funny story as regards the family name and its spelling. The author of "Tom Jones" was one of the race, and the then Lord Denbigh said to his relative: "Why don't you spell your name 'Fielding' as the rest of us do and not 'Fielding'?"
The writer made answer, "Because I am the first of the family who learned to spell."—London Gentlewoman.

African Giants.
There are many giants in Africa nine feet high. Some of them weigh 300 pounds and are strong enough to kill a panther at one blow. Perhaps you think such big fellows must be clumsy, but they are not. They can run faster than any horse, springing twelve to fourteen feet at a leap. This all sounds like a fairy story, but not so when you hear that these African giants are—ostriches.

In New York.
"The woman across the hall from us is dead."
"How did you find that out?"
"Why, I happened to see it in the paper."—Life.

Beginning Young.
Parent—Is my boy precocious, do you think? School Principal—Very. He told the teacher he had been sitting up with a sick friend.—Puck.

Sincerity is the basis of all true friendship. Without sincerity it is like a ship without ballast.
Father of the Fair One—How can you possibly think of marrying my daughter? You say that by the strictest economy you can save only $10 a month! Poor but Worthy Poet—Oh, yes, but if we both save it will be $20!—Meggedorfer Blatter.

Base Ingratitude.
Father (to his son, a doctor)—If this isn't the limit! I pay all that money for you to study medicine, and the first thing you do is to cut me off my drink.—Fliegende Blatter.

The Hiding of Chipped Glass.
Shards of glass that are covered with a shell-like white pattern are to be used for windows, partitions, electric light fixtures and other purposes. This chipped glass, for the pattern is often really chipped out of the surface, is called a "chipped glass." It is interesting to know that the glass is not really chipped out of the surface, but is a glass that is treated with a solution of good glass, and the glass is placed in a dry bag room on a rack, where it remains for some hours. Next the shards of glass are removed to the chipping room, where they are placed on edge back to back, with the coated surfaces outward. This room is heated by steam coils, and when the heat is turned on the glass reaches its utmost degree of elasticity and curls off the glass in places from the side of a dime to that of a silver dollar, but it adheres so closely to the glass that in its effort to get free it tears a piece off the surface, the result being a beautiful pattern.—Harper's Weekly.

The Logical Name.
"What a queer name for a child," said the woman who had just moved next door. "Are you sure they named it Brown?"

"Yes, indeed, and it is a most natural name for the child," was the reply. "I suppose it's the outcome of a cheap joke on the father's part," sighed the new neighbor. "When the child is naughty he is likely to suggest a speaking Brown."

"Not at all, though I'll mention that to him," said the other. "You see, the family name is Brown. Before she was married the mother's name was Wind-Angusta Wind. Upon marriage her name became Brown, of course, making it Wind-Brown. Now, when the little girl was born they were puzzled about selecting a name. They could not agree until some one said a little Wind-Brown might be called a Brown. The little one is just like her mother, and a little Wind-Brown is a Brown. But the new neighbor wouldn't stay to hear the rest of it.—New York Press.

Getting the Bank's Help.
Financial ability is not alone the power of getting moneyed men's ears and interesting "big capital." The bank is the bulwark of small business. Given an enterprise that has a legitimate chance for being and available assets, if it is backed by men of long port, it can always command the support of the bank for working capital. Yet it is astounding how many small businesses start without even consulting with a bank or banker. This is a mistake. The man who wants to finance a small concern successfully should get acquainted with his banker, keep them in touch with the business and afford them every opportunity to analyze its condition. There is no finer security than the confidence of your bank, and the cost of getting capital in this way is very small indeed compared with the cost of underwriting more or less inflated issues of stock.—Business.

Never.
"Never" is a word which is wrongly defined in the dictionary. In that book we gather the understanding that "never" means not at all, forevermore.

But—
Each day in our broad land young women vow that they will never forgive young men.

Men lift their right hands to high heaven and swear that they will never take another drink. Husbands promise never to forget to write every day.

Wives promise never to make another extravagant and foolish purchase. Candidates swear that they will never run for office again.

Women say they will never speak to some one any more. In all these cases "never" means any length of time from one hour to four days.—Life.

Broke Three Legs.
"Yes," said the small boy to the reporter, who was looking for some news to put in his paper, "mother fell downstairs and broke three legs."

"Pshaw! What are you giving me, youngster?" cried the reporter. "Don't be too funny. Your mother hasn't got three legs."

"I didn't say she had," retorted the wicked boy. "The legs belonged to a table which mother fell against. She wasn't hurt at all."

John o'Grass's to Land's End.
The distance in England miles between John o'Grass's, in the extreme north of England, to Land's End, in the farthest south, is about 480 miles as the crow flies, though by the ordinary lines of travel, of course, the distance is something more than that.

Revenge.
"That fellow cut me out in a very underhand way." "Yes, you are going to the wedding?" "Yes, I may get a chance to seek him with an old shoe."—Exchange.

Te For Tat.
He—What do you women do at your club? She—Talk about the faults of you men. What do you do at yours? He—Try to forget the faults of you women.—Boston Transcript.

The Old Man's Plan.
He got eight years in Sing Sing, but nevertheless the plan for mercy of Joseph James Washington Brown was one of the finest grown persons ever offered in the criminal sessions of New York. The old man addressed the court as follows: "Dear, yo' honor, I can't say much. I hab served am sure against me. I hab served more time than sixteen years in prison for de same offense. All I have to remark (and I hope yo' honor will not be too stern) is dat I just simply can't keep away from a benoww below when I heah dem pullets callin'."

Radford Kipling expressed the very same idea when he wrote those two familiar lines: For the wind is in the palm trees, and the temple bells they say: "Come you back, you British soldier, come you back to Meccah!"

The chicken habit once formed is as tenacious and irremediable as the Burma girl habit.—Boston Globe.

Can't Beat the Head Waiter.
"I can't get ahead of a head waiter," said a man who spends a great deal of time at one of the New York hotels. "Of course the tips at a hotel like this amount up, and as there are several restaurants, if you give $15 or $20 to the head waiter of each one of them it is too much. I sweetened one head waiter, but neglected to give the waiter of another restaurant anything. Soon I found that it was very difficult for me to get a table in that restaurant. The head waiter would always be looking another way or a table that I fancied had been engaged. I got even by giving my waiters extra big tips, and it soon got so that when I entered the restaurant half a dozen aproned fingers would beckon me. But soon the head waiter was on to my game, and it got so that almost every table offered me was claimed by the head waiter on the ground that it was reserved."—New York Sun.

Putman's Little Joke.
S. S. Putman, the architect, had the most to do with the building of the town of Putman, although writing on certain suggestions from the founder of the colony. When plans had been completed and the perfunctory work of execution was under way the architect said to the car company chief: "Now that we are well started, Mr. Putman, I want to ask you if you have given any thought to naming the town."

"A great deal," said Mr. Putman. "I think it is only fair that you should have recognition, and I have decided upon a composite name that will immortalize you and myself at the same time. We will do this by taking the first syllable of my name and the last syllable of yours."—Chicago Post.

Browning and a Cabman.
The brownies of Venice are supposed to know their Tasso and Ariosto. The following little incident leads to the supposition that Browning's "Ride to Ghent" may possibly be found in the poem repository of the London cabman. A neighbor one day saw Mr. Browning alight from a hansom. The cabby looked at the fire in his open palm with an air of dissatisfaction and, wheeling round, delivered himself of this parting shot: "You may be a good poet, but you're a bad pay master."—Mrs. Andrew Crouse in "Red Letter Days of My Life."

His Calling.
"What are you doing now, Wigglesworth?" "Settlement work." "Settlement work? You don't look the part." "That's what I'm doing, just the same. I'm collecting bills for old Spot-bash."—Exchange.

An Easy Task.
Lower (modestly)—Have you learned to love another? Flirt (who had just broken off her engagement with him)—Oh, no, George. I didn't have to learn. The man is very, very wealthy, and the love came spontaneously.

"Makin' Hash Charms."
"What on earth do you keep clapping for? That ax kinder was awful!" "I know, but I liked the style of her clothes, and I want to have another look at them."—London Opinion.

Diplomats get more profit by listening than by talking even when they talk well.—Hansotau.

For Baby's Eyes.
Mothers, please do not send your babies out without any shade for the eyes. Even though it is not summer time, they should not be allowed to be with the sun shining in their eyes. All sorts of troubles result from this, eye inflammations of many kinds, often defective vision and nervous conditions, which remain for life. If you would try using with the sun shining in your eyes for an hour or so you would soon realize how disagreeable it is for a baby in a goat or carriage to be subjected to it.

A jolly party of young people of this city, some eighteen or twenty in number, enjoyed a straw ride to New Smyrna, Thursday evening, in the Ridgeway auto bus, returning about midnight, in time to escape the sudden and unexpected shower of rain which fell not long afterwards. The early part of the evening was very clear, cool and bright with the soft light of a full moon. The bus was stopped on the way home and the party alighted, built a bonfire and enjoyed a luncheon prepared for the occasion.

Multiplying by Machinery.
 The clerical staffs of many of the big insurance companies have of late years been considerably reduced by the employment of mechanical calculators. One of these, the invention of a German, is a compact little affair resembling a music box. It may be made to perform almost instantaneously the most portentous sums in addition, subtraction, multiplication by one or two factors, division, squaring and cubing. It is required, for instance, to multiply 531,975 by 924. The first factor is set by touching the little knobs representing 531,975. To multiply by the other factor you turn a handle four times, push along a slide one place and turn the handle twice, then push the slide another place onward and push the handle nine times. The long multiplication is now done without a possibility of error so far as the machine is concerned, and the dial shows 491,544,900. In the same mechanical way may be done all the other arithmetical processes.—London Globe.

Strange Timekeepers.
 To ascertain the time at night the Apache Indians employed a gourd on which the stars of the heavens were marked. As the constellations rose in the sky the Indian referred to his gourd and found out the hour. By turning the gourd around he could tell the order in which the constellations might be expected to appear.

The hill people of Assam reckon time and distance by the number of quids of betel nuts chewed. It will be remembered how, according to Washington Irving, the Dutch colonial assembly was invariably dismissed at the last puff of the third pipe of tobacco of Governor Wouter Van Twiller.

A Montagnais Indian of Canada will set up a tall stick in the snow when traveling ahead of friends who are to follow. He marks with his foot the line of shadow cast, and by the change in the angle of the shadow the oncoming party can tell on arriving at the spot about how far ahead the leader is.

Fighter of the Family.
 The tough little boy with the red hair and freckled face pushed up against the neat little boy and said impudently:

"My sister can lick your sister."

The neat little boy did not argue the matter.

"And my big brother can lick your big brother."

The good little lad winced.

"And my ma can lick your ma."

The quiet lad shifted from one foot to the other.

"And my pa can lick your pa."

There was a flash of pink shirt waist, the sound of some hard object coming in contact with a spongy substance, and the quiet little lad stood triumphantly over his adversary, quietly waiting for him to push his nose back into the center of his face where it belonged.

"But just remember this," he observed quietly, "you can't lick me."—Youngstown Telegram.

The Famous "Green Man of Brighton."

In October, 1806, an individual was to be observed at Brighton, England, who walked out every day dressed in green from head to foot—green shoes, green gloves, green handkerchief and other articles to match. This eccentric person lived alone, knew nobody, and in his house the curtains, the wall paper, the furniture, even the plates and dishes and the smallest toilet articles, offered an uninterrupted sequence of green. Having started on his career, there was obviously no reason to stop, and with full consistency he carried this scruples so far as to eat nothing but fruit and vegetables of the same green color. The consequences were extremely disastrous. One fine day the green man jumped from his window into the street, rushed forward and performed a second somersault from the top of the nearest cliff.

Climate and Food.
 In the arctic regions human food is almost exclusively animal, because that is the only sort which is available in quantity. In the tropics, where vegetable food is abundant and animal foods readily decay, plant products are and always have been of very great importance in the diet. In temperate regions all kinds of food may be secured, and it seems reasonable to suppose that all kinds have always been eaten as they are today.

Awaiting the Test.
 Pilgrim—If I come in will that dog bite me? Mrs. Hawkins—We ain't no ways sure, mister. But the feller that let us take him on trial said he'd chew up a tramp in less'n two minutes; but, land sakes, we ain't goin' to believe it till we see it done.—Chicago News.

He Got the Limit.
 "Do you believe there is anything prophetic in dreams?" "Believe it! I know it. Only the other night I dreamed that I was at a church fair and awoke to find that my wife had been through my pockets and taken my last son."—Exchange.

He Knew.
 "It's the first $1,000 that's hard to get," explained the eminent millionaire. "I know that," responded the mere man. "I've been trying to accumulate it for the past forty years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Light itself is a great corrective. A thousand wrongs and abuses that are grown in darkness disappear like owls and bats before the light of day.

The Auger Fish.
 The auger fish, half fish, half crab, is the terror of all vessels but iron clads that use the south seas. This creature, which is not bigger than an almond, has a proboscis like an enlarged nut setting that can bore through even sheet iron. Auger fish frequent many of the lagoons of the coral islands and burrow holes for themselves in the coral, but they have a perverse habit of doing the same thing to ships lying at anchor, and the damage generally shows itself when next the vessel is at sea in bad weather, with disastrous results.

The Point of View.
 The eastern man looked at the driver of the stage which was to land him near the Top Notch mine and found him an interesting specimen in many ways. "But I mustn't let him suspect I intend to use him for material," he thought.

"I suppose there are a good many queer people about here," he said with caution a moment later. "You must have a good chance to see them."

"The best there is," returned the stage driver. "As I said to Sam Barker the other day, if one of us knew how to write stories all we'd have to do for characters would be to take 'em from the folks that land here when the train from back east comes in."—Youth's Companion.

More Than He Meant.

The parishioner was explaining matters to the pastor.

"I don't go out much," he said, "either to church or anywhere else. I am a sufferer from insomnia."

"I am going to preach a sermon on that subject next Sunday morning," said the Rev. K. Mowatt Laighly. "Come and hear it. I am sure it will bring you some relief."—Chicago Tribune.

Coming.
 For hope, which glides the shadows where they fall, Discounts the hour which brings the time of ball. It richly glides this first of all events And puts an aure around the baseball fence. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Note For the War Cry.
 Two beautifully dressed women got on the car and entered into a discussion of their household cares and worries. Finally when the subject of jelly was reached one said to the other: "Yes; we tried some crab apples last year, but the stuff wouldn't jelly, and we had to give it to the Salvation Army."—Life.

Knew His Man.
 George Bubb, better known as Bubb Doddington, one of the wits of the eighteenth century, always dined well and always liked to dine after the repast. Falling asleep one day after dinner with Sir Richard Temple and Lord Cobham, the latter reproached Doddington with his drowsiness. Doddington denied having been asleep and to prove he had not offered to repeat all Lord Cobham had been saying. Cobham challenged him to do so. Doddington repeated a story, and Lord Cobham owned he had been telling it. "Well," said Doddington, "and yet I did not hear a word of it, but I went to sleep because I knew that about this time of the day you would tell that story."

Cockfighting in England.
 For centuries cockfighting was encouraged in English schools. Fittesphen in the twelfth century mentions it as an amusement of Londoners and that yearly at Shoreville the boys of every school brought cocks to their schoolmasters, and all the forenoon was spent in school witnessing these birds fight. As late as 1790 the income of the schoolmaster of Applecross, in Ross-shire, was drawn partially from cockfight dues. Down to 1815 at least there was an annual exhibition of cockfighting at the Manchester grammar school.

INVITING TROUBLE.
 Impatient people constantly water their miseries and hoe up their comforts; sorrows are visitors that come without invitation, but complaining minds send a wagon to bring their troubles home in by the load. Many people are born crying, live complaining and die disappointed; they chew the bitter pill which they would not even know to be bitter if only they had the sense to swallow it whole in a cup of patience and water.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

If These Towns

with the best of fire-fighting equipment can burn why not Daytona?

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—The fire in the Equitable Life Assurance company's building, which started yesterday morning and gutted the big granite and marble structure, is still burning today and the city firemen are working hard to subdue the flames.

Between $1,000,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 worth of securities are locked in the vaults of the big building and the vaults in the ruins are being strongly guarded by a cordon of police.

It is now known that seven lives have been lost in the fire and others may be in the ruins. The Equitable officers declared today that some of the policyholders will lose a cent because of the disaster. By hard work the firemen have been able to keep the blaze from spreading to other structures in the vicinity.

Big Plant Destroyed.
EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Jan. 10—Three acres of buildings comprising the plant of the Commercial Acid company two miles south of this city were destroyed by fire this morning. The cause of the blaze was an explosion and the loss will amount to $200,000.

Boston Tenement Burns.
BOSTON, Jan. 10—The four-story tenement building at No. 10 Whilard street burned this morning. Two women and one man, all Italians, were burned to death and many were rescued from death by the forming of a human chain to a nearby building.

Many Buildings Burned.
BERKLEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Jan. 10—Two business blocks, five residences and a church were destroyed by fire here this morning. The blaze originated in a bakery and the total loss will reach $150,000.

Bad Fire in Chicago.
CHICAGO, Jan. 10—The warehouse of the Creamery Package Manufacturing company on West Kinzie street was destroyed by fire this morning with a loss of $100,000. In the Northland hotel, next door, 400 guests were thrown into a panic and all were driven out into the streets in the zero weather when the roof of the hotel caught fire.
